

AGREEMENT

Please read this statement entirely and carefully before accessing or using the Appellate Defenders, Inc., Appellate Practice Manual, © 2006, 2016, Appellate Defenders, Inc. All readers agree to be legally bound by the terms and conditions below. If you do not wish to be bound by these terms and conditions, you may not access or use the manual.

Manual does not provide legal advice: The Appellate Defenders, Inc., Appellate Practice Manual is for general informational purposes only. It is not, and should not be considered to be, legal advice applicable to a particular case or situation.

Reliance on manual is at user's own risk: Although Appellate Defenders, Inc., has taken great pains to make the manual an accurate and high quality product, it is not guaranteed to be complete or up to date or free from error. The manual tries to offer a framework and starting point, but users always must determine independently what rules, legal principles, policies, authorities, and other matters they may properly rely on. By accessing the manual, users acknowledge that any reliance on materials in the manual is at their own risk. HARD COPY USERS: The manual is also on the ADI website at <http://www.adi-sandiego.com/panel/manual.asp>; the most up to date version will always be the one online.

Manual assumes professional legal training and must not replace consultation with attorney: The manual is written for attorneys handling criminal and juvenile appeals in the California judicial system. Because the discussion is directed to readers who have a formal legal education and are licensed by the State Bar of California, basic knowledge necessary for the appropriate use and interpretation of the material is often assumed, rather than provided explicitly. Non-attorney members of the public must not use the manual as a substitute for consulting professional counsel about a particular situation.

Access to or use of manual does not create attorney-client relationship: Access to and/or use of the manual is not intended to, and does not, create an attorney-client relationship between the user and Appellate Defenders, Inc., or its board, officers, attorneys, employees, or agents.

Manual is protected by copyright: The Appellate Defenders, Inc., Appellate Practice Manual is protected by copyright law. Unless otherwise stated, users may print or download information from it for personal non-commercial use only. Reprinting or otherwise reproducing any part of the manual is prohibited unless prior written consent is obtained from Appellate Defenders, Inc.